

EXL Named a 'Leader' in Business Process Transformation through RPA & AI by NelsonHall

September 24, 2018

NEW YORK, Sept. 24, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- EXL (NASDAQ:EXLS), a leading Operations Management and Analytics company, today announced it had been named as a 'Leader' in NelsonHall's 2018 Vendor Evaluation & Assessment Tool (NEAT) for Business Transformation through Robotic Process Automation and Artificial Intelligence. EXL was positioned as a 'Leader' in the Overall category, and for the Insurance, Healthcare, Travel, Transportation & Logistics, and Energy & Utilities industries.

"EXL is committed in helping our clients transform successfully to gain a competitive edge," said Rohit Kapoor, Vice Chairman and CEO, EXL. "We do this by applying Digital Intelligence to garner insights by putting the data in context and orchestrating advanced digital technologies with human expertise to achieve breakthrough business outcomes. This positioning is the result of our continued investment in developing transformative digital solutions capable of solving complex business problems for our clients."

The NEAT analyzes the performance of vendors offering RPA and AI business process services. The NEAT tool allows strategic sourcing managers to assess the capability of providers across a range of criteria and business situations and identify the best performing providers overall.

"Future market leaders for business process transformation will be determined by the ability to develop a concentration of new digital process models within a domain," said John Willmott, NelsonHall CEO. "EXL has positioned itself well in this area through its strong domain expertise, advanced analytics capabilities, and the application of innovative technology."

Commenting on the award Baljinder Singh, Senior Vice President, Global Head of Digital Transformation and CIO said, "We are excited to get this recognition of our RPA and AI competence as part of our Digital Intelligence capabilities. NelsonHall's NEAT analysis positions EXL highly in terms of providing business outcomes, reflecting the value delivered to our clients from the practical use of automation, AI and advanced digital technologies. We're particularly pleased to be recognized as a Leader in our core industry domains."
