Integrated Revenue Management Solutions Uses Powerful Analytics to Optimize Payment Processing

NEW YORK, June 21, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- EXL [NASDAQ: EXLS], a leading operations management and analytics company, today announced the launch of new Integrated Revenue Management Solutions from its EXL Health division. EXL Health has partnered with REVELOHEALTH, a provider of solutions dedicated to convert healthcare data into actionable information today. EXL Health and REVELOHEALTH have combined their knowledge and expertise to provide new solutions which deliver a comprehensive, data-driven payment processing and revenue analytics capability. This new capability is structured to help providers optimize revenue cycle management operating objectives and compliance.

"The median operating margin for U.S. hospitals fell 56% over the course of 2020, underscoring the massive financial and operational challenges healthcare providers are facing as we exit the pandemic," said Sam Meckey, Executive Vice President and Head of EXL Health. "By teaming with REVELOHEALTH to pair market leading, digital workflow solutions with our robust data analytics and payment processing capabilities, we are creating the new standard for fully integrated revenue cycle management solutions."

EXL Health's Integrated Revenue Management Solutions are designed to help healthcare providers improve revenue capture, optimize payment processing operations and maximize and protect working capital through payment analytics and comprehensive payment processing solutions. Drawing on deep analytics and proven payment processing technologies from EXL Health, along with fully integrated digital workflow capabilities from REVELOHEALTH, the new solutions enhance payment processing so that it can be performed in a more accurate and timely fashion. At the same time, payment data is converted into valuable operational information to manage revenue cycle operations.

"The combination of operational excellence, deep data and proven expertise in revenue cycle analytics made possible through this partnership creates an incredibly powerful payment solution for providers of every type," said JR Thomas, Chief Executive Officer, REVELOHEALTH. "By working together with EXL Health, we're able to offer a revenue cycle management solution that goes beyond efficiency and accuracy to inform a smarter, more pro-active approach to provider financial services."

About REVELOHEALTH

REVELOHEALTH was designed to level the playing field for employers and health systems that has been increasingly controlled by a limited number of insurance companies in today's healthcare system. Led by seasoned healthcare executives from the payer, network management, healthcare system, physician delivery and outpatient service markets, REVELOHEALTH offers visibility and control of actionable data between initial claims production and the EOB/payment result hidden from view in today's adjudication process. This diverse backdrop provides REVELOHEALTH with the experience and ability to breakdown traditional barriers that prevent payers and providers from improving the patient experience, and ultimately, the overall health of people in their local communities.
