EXL in 'America's 100 Best Small Companies' List of Forbes

NEW YORK, Nov. 2, 2010 /PRNewswire via COMTEX News Network/ -- ExlService Holdings, Inc. (Nasdaq: EXLS), a leading provider of outsourcing and transformation services, today announced that it has been named to the list of "America's 100 Best Small Companies" by Forbes. Published online and in the November 8, 2010 issue of the magazine, EXL has been ranked 47 among other successful listed companies.

Rohit Kapoor, President & Chief Executive Officer, EXL, said, "We are honored to be recognized by Forbes as one of the companies with remarkable sales and earnings growth. The recognition underlines our ability to create value for our clients, investors and employees. Being selected also endorses our financial discipline and sustainable business model. EXL today ranks among the top companies in the business process outsourcing and transformation space, serving over a 120 clients globally. I thank the entire EXL team for their persistent efforts for making the company globally recognized and the clients and investors for placing their confidence in EXL."

Forbes adopted a methodology set forth in the publication in determining America's 100 Best Small Companies. The ranking considered publicly traded companies with annual revenues between $5 million and $1 billion and a stock price above $5 a share. The ranking was based on earnings growth, sales growth and return on equity in the past 12 months and over 5 years. The ranking also factored in the comparative stock performance of each company with its competitors.
